

About ReVision dance company

ReVision dance company is a contemporary modern dance company that focuses on themes such as hope, interdependence, trust, cooperation, cultural heritage, world citizenship, commitment and self-development. ReVision engages and entertains audiences with a unique interactive approach to dance.

ReVision is a resident company of Dance Place and performs throughout the school year as part of Dance Place's InReach and OutReach Series. In addition, ReVision is on the artistic rosters of the Washington Performing Arts Society's Concerts in the Schools Program and the Montgomery County Public Schools.

About The Arc of the U.S.

The Arc is the nation's largest community-based organization advocating for and serving people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families. It caters to all ages and all diagnoses from autism, Down syndrome, Fragile X and various other developmental disabilities.

The Arc now has more than 140,000 members and more than 700 state and local chapters nationwide and has continued to grow and evolve along with the changing needs and issues people with disabilities and their families face. Governed by a volunteer board of directors and managed by key staff, The Arc, works to uphold a vision that every individual and family living with an intellectual or developmental disability in the United States has access to the information, advocacy and skills they need to participate as active citizens of our democracy and active members of their community.

You're Invited

We look forward to seeing you at the VIP reception, benefiting The Arc of the U.S. and Dance Place's resident company, ReVision dance company.

This special performance and reception launches the Timothy J. Quinn Legacy Fund. Tim, the former Executive Director of The Arc Northern Chesapeake Region, was the beloved father of Shannon Quinn, the artistic director of ReVision dance company.

The legacy fund will support ReVision dance company's outreach work with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities in addition to supporting a continued partnership with The Arc organizations nationwide.

Shannon Quinn, who also serves as the Director of Dance Place's NEXTgeneration Youth Programs, has a passion to bring dance to everyone. No matter what ability or disability an individual may have, ReVision dance company carries on this passion.
